"Homes of a Hundred Ideas."

Our Homes Will Contain Just What Women Desire.

A true home bears the distinct stamp of the family's individuality. It represents the family's taste, its gentility. It stands for the family's idea of what a real home should be—in that it differs from any other structure. Certain home ideals are general among women, but others are as different as bricks and stone. It was our happy faculty of discrimination that enabled us to select those ideals that will delight women and render our homes such types as will gladden the heart of any home lover.

It has been a great pleasure to plan these features and to watch them worked out detail by detail. The homes we have produced hitherto have always reflected the home spirit and atmosphere, but these new structures will be ideal because the thoughtfulness of the women of Washington have rendered them so.

As representative homes they bear a responsibility—that of proving what a home should be. But confident of their construction, their quality, their charm, we commend them to our friends. We also make it possible for them to buy.

The man who continues to rent after the dangers of home buying are removed and an opportunity is given him to make his rent purchase the home, loses the chance of his lifetime, and does an injustice to his family.

The location of these homes is about ready to be announced. It will be worth the waiting.

Middaugh and Shannon, Inc.,
COLORADO BUILDING.

"No place like home; no homes like ours."

The Washington Herald has selected for their contest one of our "Homes of a Hundred Ideas."

They state that the reason this selection was made was "because of location and Middaugh & Shannon's (Inc.) known reputation for good architecture, construction, and value, and because they are incorporating in their homes the ideas of the women of Washington."

Richard A. Ballinger.

Do not miss this character sketch of the new Secretary of the Interior by James B. Morrow in

THE WASHINGTON HERALD, Sunday, April 11, 1909.

The man of fighting blood, whom President Taft has chosen to catch and prosecute the persons who have stolen millions of acres of public land in the West.

How Richard A. Ballinger cleaned up Seattle while mayor of that once wide open town, although threatened with death almost daily, and thus gained the friendship of Theodore Roosevelt.

He says that American cities should be governed by small boards of commissioners vested with all legislative and administrative authority.

The new Secretary of the Interior tells the story of his life from the days when he played a drum made out of a fig box, in the civil war, until he became a member of the President's Cabinet.

Relates an anecdote of Abraham Lincoln, in whose office is father, Col. "Dick" Ballinger, studied law; also some anecdotes of Col. "Dick" himself, whose energy and visions took him to many places and who once kicked an editor out of a post-office.

Herded sheep on the prairie as a child, sold newspapers in the streets of an Illinois village, learned the printer's trade, and while watching cattle on horseback read Burns' poems and studied Latin and Greek, riding seven miles to recite to a hospital steward in the army.

"Lee at Appomattox" will be one of the interesting articles which will appear next Sunday. The last days of the Confederacy and the tributes paid to the heroes of the war between the States by the descendants of the men who fought and bled and died will always mark a page in American history.

Gen. William Booth is being honored by the Salvation Army this week, and a description of his work and that of the great organization he founded will be given Sunday.

Easter as a holiday and Easter as a day marking a new season in fashions will be given space in the feature pages of THE WASHINGTON HERALD Sunday.

Real estate news, sporting, society, local, foreign, and domestic happenings will be fully detailed.

Once a reader always a reader of THE WASHINGTON HERALD, daily and Sunday.

SAMPSON TRIAL LAGS

Prosecutor's Effort to Discredit Prisoner Fails.

MILDRED SERVOS A WITNESS

Read of State's Side of the Case Now in Sight—Mother of the Accused Woman's Dead Husband Attends Court—Much Technical Testimony Given by Dr. Albert H. Hamilton.

Lyons, N. Y., April 8.—The trial of Mrs. Georgia Allyn Sampson for the murder of her husband at Macedon is still unfinished, although the end of the prosecution is in sight. Dr. Albert H. Hamilton, the gun expert from Auburn, was undergoing a rigid cross-examination by the defense when court adjourned for the day.

Aside from the testimony of Dr. Hamilton, which was almost entirely technical, nothing of importance was elicited at the trial to-day. The famous "George Manson" was explored to the limit. An effort made by the prosecution to show the prisoner to have been indiscreet failed.

Mrs. Harriet Sampson, mother of the deceased, was in court all day, accompanied by her sons, Perry E. Sampson, George A. Sampson, and Clarence Sampson, and daughter, Gertrude Sampson. All testified during the day, but showed nothing of importance, except that after the tragedy they did not meet or care to talk with the prisoner. The Allyn and Sampson families kept aloof from each other, not even exchanging glances.

Mrs. Marilla L. Ebert, the first witness, ended the cheese episode by explaining that the package of cheese supposed to have been carried by Harry Sampson when he fell dead before his mother-in-law was served for supper that night, and did not appear to have been handled. Undertaker Seiger was recalled. He could not remember about paint spots on the shirt worn by Harry Sampson the day of his death.

Miss Servos Testifies.

Mildred Servos, a comely lass of fifteen, whose name was mentioned in the fatal letter, took the stand and narrated that she had known Georgia Sampson for some years, being on intimate terms, going riding with her and making trips to Palmyra, Fairport, and Rochester.

Testifying to trips made to Rochester and Ontario Beach, the witness showed that no improprieties had been committed. She denied ever having received letters in which were inclosed letters for delivery to Georgia Sampson, or of having received letters for delivery to her son, George A. Sampson, brother of the deceased, recounted a conversation between his brother Harry and the prisoner about the making of a will, in which the prisoner urged her husband to make such an instrument, stating that otherwise two-thirds of his property upon his death would go to his relatives.

Miss Carrie E. Austin, clerk of the Wayne County Surrogate's Court, produced the Harry Sampson will, probated in November last, giving everything, valued at $3,000, to the wife.

Dr. Albert H. Hamilton was then put on the stand.

SUBMARINES LAUNCHED.

New Holland Boats Are Similar to the Octopus.

Boston, April 8.—Three submarines of the Holland type slid into the waters of the Fore River to-day without the ceremony which attends the launching of the larger ships of the navy. They were christened Stingray, Tarpon, and Narwhal. They had been built at the Fore River Works.

The Stingray and Tarpon, which are 105 feet in length, are practically duplicates of the submarine Octopus, which has made so many records. The Narwhal is 135 feet in length, but is of the same hold and type. The boats are the first three to be launched of the seven submarines awarded to the Electric Boat Building Company by the government last November. The other four are well advanced and will probably be ready for launching by the end of the present month.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Thursday, April 8, 1909. 8 p. m. High pressure, with comparatively light winds, prevails generally, except from the Lake region eastward. The weather was fair over the Western half of the continent and in New England and the Middle Atlantic States, but elsewhere over the Eastern half of the country rains were quite general.

With the exception of showers Friday in the South Atlantic and southern portion of the Middle Atlantic States, the weather will be generally fair Friday and Saturday. In the Northwest extreme West temperatures will rise slowly; in the Central West it will be warmer Saturday, while in the East and South comparatively cool weather will continue.

The winds along the New England coast will be westerly, with moderate to fresh breezes, moderate and variable, though mostly from the Lake west; on the South Atlantic coast moderate north to northeast; on the Gulf coast light to moderate northerly, and on the Lake Michigan moderate westerly, becoming variable.

Steamers departing Friday for European ports will have moderate westerly winds, with generally fair weather, to the Grand Banks.

The display of storm warnings on Lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron, St. Clair, Erie, and Ontario will be resumed for the season on April 10, 1909.

MRS. GOELET'S AUTO HITS MAN

Street Cleaner, the Victim, in Critical Condition.

Society Woman's Chauffeur Arrested in Fifth Avenue—Charge of Assault Preferred in Court.

New York, April 8.—An automobile carrying Mrs. Ogden Goelet, on her way to fill an engagement for luncheon to-day, struck and seriously injured Christie Salanitro, a street cleaner, in Fifth avenue, between Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth streets.

The injured man is in New York Hospital in a critical condition. Will Sullivan, of 149 West Forty-ninth street, Mrs. Goelet's chauffeur, was arrested on a charge of assault.

Salanitro was standing near Policeman McCahill, who was on duty, and approached from behind, going at a rapid speed. The street cleaner was struck by the front wheel and hurled forward, landing at the feet of the policeman. McCahill instantly held up his hand, and Sullivan brought the automobile to a quick halt.

"You are under arrest," said McCahill. Salanitro was picked up, and Dr. Burnett arrived a few minutes later from the hospital. He said the victim had suffered contusions of the body and probably internal injuries of a serious nature.

Mrs. Goelet, after the accident, started up Fifth avenue on foot.

Sullivan was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court and paroled upon his promise to furnish bail to-morrow morning.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Stains on Clothes of Accused Negroes to Be Analyzed.

HOME-WEEK WORKERS BUSY

Invitation to Attend Dedication of Park Will Be Extended Shortly to Vice President Sherman and Speaker Cannon—Elaborate Services for Easter Sunday in Churches.

Alexandria News Agency, 602 King street, Alexandria, Va., authorized agents and carriers for The Washington Herald. The Herald will be delivered daily and Sunday to any address in Alexandria for 50 cents a month.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU.

602 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., April 8.—The clothes worn by James Dorsey and Johnson, negroes, held with Richard, alias "Dick" Pines, and Henry Smith, also negroes, will be subjected to a chemical analysis to determine whether the stains found on them are human blood stains. This action was decided on by Commonwealth Attorney Samuel G. Brent, who to-day dispatched Chief of Police C. T. Goods to Richmond to request Gov. Swanson to make an appropriation out of the contingent fund for that purpose.

Mr. Brent to-day explained that the State does not furnish funds for such a purpose, and the money will have to come from the governor's contingent fund.

A special grand jury will be empaneled Monday next to take up the case.

The invitation which was to have been extended to-day to Vice President Sherman and Speaker Cannon to be present in this city April 30 to take part in the dedication of the George Washington Park was not extended by the committee that visited Washington owing to the absence of Senator Martin from Washington. Both he and Representative Carlin were to have accompanied the committee. The invitation will be extended shortly.

Announcement is made that the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum will keep "open house" during the home-coming week festivities for its former members, and will also give a minstrel performance on April 28.

Arrangements were made to-day with the telephone and telegraph companies for the extension of their wires to the park in time for the dedication.

Secretary Wedderburn, of the George Washington Monument Association, desires to get the names of former Alexandrians now residing in Washington in order to have them organize and participate in the parade which will be held in connection with the dedication.

Gov. Swanson, who already has accepted an invitation to be present on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the park, will be requested to make the principal address. It is expected that during the coming week a site will be selected for the corner stone. It is thought that it will be laid at the top of the hill near the clubhouse formerly used by the Alexandria Golf Club.

E. E. Downham has been appointed a committee of one to invite Aca Temple, Mystic Shrine, to be present in this city during home-coming week.

Arrangements have been made for meetings of the executive committee in charge of the parade every night from now on until the day set for the parade.

Augmented choir will give Easter music Sunday at the Catholic and Episcopal churches in this city. Extensive preparations have been made for the musical programmes, which are very elaborate.

Services at the Catholic and Episcopal churches to-day, in observance of Holy Thursday, were largely attended. The programme of services heretofore published for Good Friday will be carried out in the Catholic, Episcopal, and Lutheran churches.

Funeral services for Francis M. Walker, who died Thursday, were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from his home, 723 South Lee street. Rev. L. F. Kelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, officiated. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Lunt, L. Shuman, P. F. Gorman, William Clark, W. P. Graves, and R. F. Betts.

Joseph Jones, a negro, thirteen years old, while bird hunting south of St. Mary's cemetery, this afternoon, shot himself through the foot with a shotgun. He was taken to the office of Dr. W. A. Warfield, where he received medical attention.

Nin Frias, first secretary of the Uruguayan legation of Washington, will deliver an address Sunday night at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. He will take for his theme "Latin America's field for missionary labor."

Elizabeth Churchman has sold to Charles E. Churchman a house and lot on the east side of Royal street, between Wolfe and Wilkes street.

A slight blaze on the roof of a shed in the rear of the old City Hotel brought out the fire department at 9 o'clock this morning. A chemical extinguisher put out the blaze.
